

Workforce Survey

The RAND Corporation is conducting an ASA-funded survey of anesthesiologists and other providers to study workforce patterns and drivers. ASA is encouraging all members to participate in the web based survey, which can be accessed through an April 16th email from RAND.

Additional reminders from RAND will be sent on May 8 and May 15. Participants should use the link, username and password provided in the email to complete the 15 minute survey.

ASA has agreed to support this study in hopes of obtaining data that can be used to better predict supply and demand for Anesthesiologists' services and allow anesthesiology programs to make informed decisions about current and future Anesthesiologists training rates. The survey is an update of a study that was conducted by RAND in 2008. The findings of this initial study can be found at: http://www.rand.org/pubs/technical_reports/TR688.html.
